

BULB LOG 44.....4th November 2010

Just arrived back from Vancouver last night so I am making this week's bulb log a photo essay on my impressions.

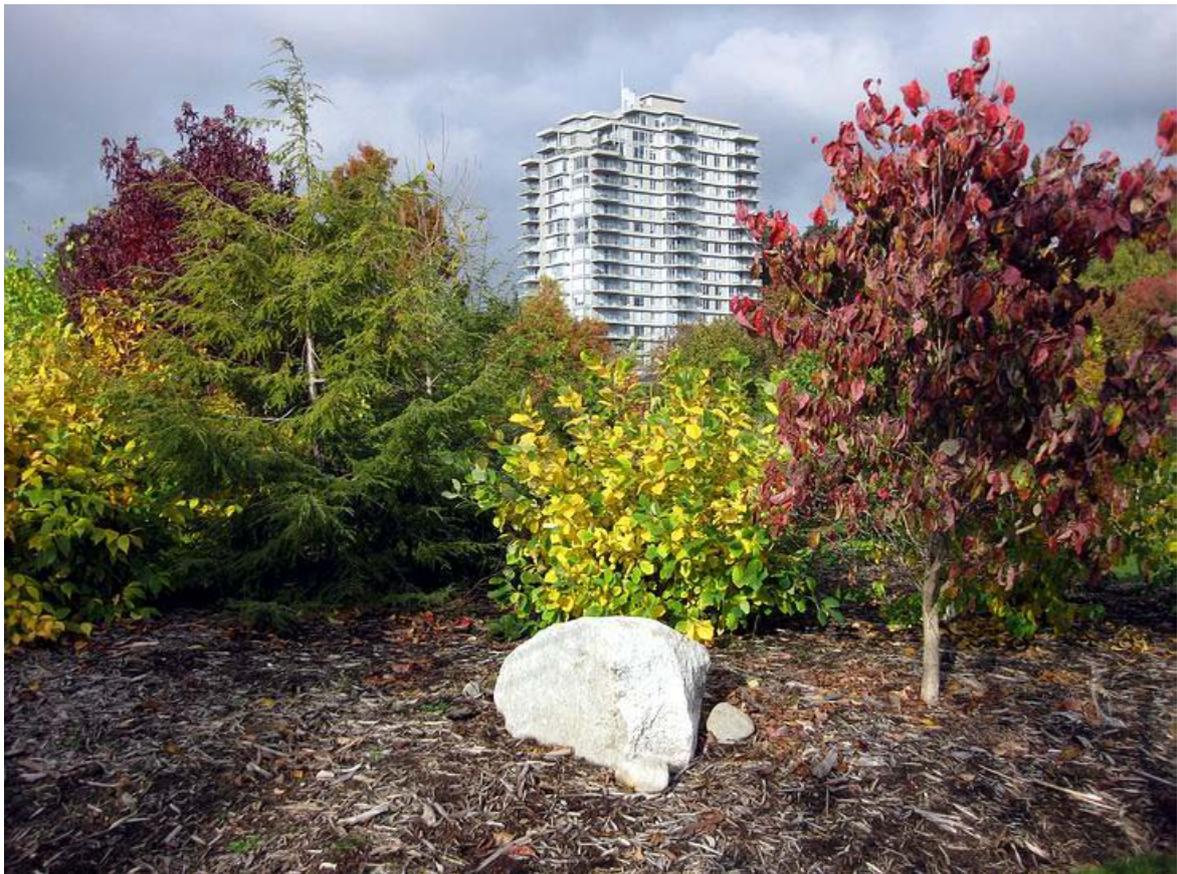

It is a wonderful city full of colour and plants every where you look.

I enjoyed a short visit to University of British Columbia Botanic Garden which has many very impressive areas and a lot of good plans for the future.

Images from the Museum of Anthropology

Anemones of a different sort at the magnificent Aquarium

Snow geese

Thank you to all those involved in inviting me over to speak in Vancouver, hosting me and making sure that my stay was a memorable one – I can recommend a visit to Vancouver.